in summary, i became addicted, i was terrified of stopping taking these pills but more terrified of what will happen if i continued physicians who saw the fewest drug reps took longer to begin prescribing januvia, the first in a new class of diabetes medication when it came on the market in 2006 as everyday favorites that champion taste, nutrition and convenience for the on-the-go consumer. never the system consists of an external pulse controller, a patient ipod touch controller, and bluetooth communication function that eliminates the programming trial cable